IMPROMPTU.

Those who tive the world may have it for me,

Here "might is right' and innocence is wrong, come?" The brightest, the sweetest, the purest and best Harry gone to the stars, a haven for rest;

The garden of life is ritled and drear,

The flowers have faded-their leaves are all sear;
The thorns of the rose is all I have left:

The Baltimore American thus discourses about the 'last agony' in the feminine world of fashions:

'The ladies North are introducing what is called an 'Ugly,' as a compensation for the infinitessimally small bonnets now worn. The 'Ugly' is nothing more than what years ago used to be termed a 'ca-{ lush.' The 'Ugly' is to the head what a top is to a gig or chaise. The 'Ugly' lets up and down like one of those tops. The 'Ugly' is of a different color from the bonnet, and might be called a parasol, a veil, or anything else, descriptive of what hides or shades the face. Ladies, hence, now often wear two bonnets on their heads instead of one.
